MONDAY JULY 12.

Congress would redeem itself very much if it would adjourn now.

It is making the magnates perspire this summer to defend Mr. Oliphant in this does. It is the toughest job they have had since they swallowed the appointment of Higgins.

General Dow stops talking about prohibition long enough to remark that "democrats are showing a remarkable capacity for blundering, and I believe the republicans will again elect the president."

The Harper's weekly says that the investigation of the Pan electric scandal shows more conclusively than ever that Garland's retention in the cabinet is a Public disgrace. But still the Weekly holds fast to Cleveland.

Mr. General W. T. Sherman has declared her intention to devote the summer to the study of languages at Burlington, Vt., and the general is reported as thinking of going out west and having some fun with the Indians.

Connecticut democrats turned to nominate Wm. H. Barnum for the United States senate. No one will object to the nomination, but when it comes to election the republican legislature will send delegations to Senator Hawley and ask him to remain in Washington another six years.

There is a striking similarity in the summer temperatures of Norfolk, Charles-ton, Savannah, Mobile, New Orleans and Galveston; and as a rule the summer range of the thermometer in these cities is not so high as it is further north. This leads the southern papers to advocate southern summer resorts as more desirable for southern people than northern resorts.

It is not too late to suggest that the Knights of Labor of Milwaukee would be greatly benefited if they would follow the wise example of their brother Knights in Chicago, in demanding that all anarchists shall be expelled from the order. This is what the Knights all over the country should do. They should have no fellowship with the anarchists or with law breakers of any kind.

In 1868 United States Army paymaster Rucker issued a warrant on the New York sub-treasury payable to order. The Clinton Bank, of Iowa, cashed it and the sub-treasury proved a forgery. The United States sued the bank for recovery. The bank set up the claim of negligence in "sleeping on its rights." Justice Brewer decides that the United States is bound as an individual, when it handles commercial paper, and holds for the defendant, the Clinton bank.

Politics in the Second district, as given by the Portage Register: "The Ostkosh Times (Democrat) comes out in favor of the nomination and election of State Treasurer McFetridge for congress, in case the democratic nominee A. K. Delaney. Mr. McFetridge insists that he is not a candidate, and probably is not; but all the same we heard a prominent Dodge county Democrat declare in the past few days, that if Delaney should be nominated, there would be a demand for McFetridge's nomination that he could not resist, and that he would be elected beyond a doubt."

While democratic newspapers frequently criticize the president for his open violation of the principles of his party, no small portion of our country stand up heartily in his defense. Such affection should touch the president in his tenderest moments.

Cheap fifth. No civil service reform rules have been violated by the president and no democrat in power in the United States ever uttered a word of criticism on such a point. Even a big enough to have a little common sense somewhere in the neighborhood where it originated—Madison Democratic.

We fear the Democrat's zeal for the president and his alleged devotion to civil service, makes it blind to facts that stare the country in the face. But probably the Democrat does not regard the Courier-Journal, the World and the Sun democratic papers.

The Minneapolis Tribune informs the National republican committee that Minneapolis deserves and expects to entertain the next National republican convention. "Among republicans in this state," he says, "Blaine, Logan, Sherman, Allison, Edwards, Hawley and all the great party leaders are highly appreciated. They could all afford to agree upon Minneapolis as the place for the convention. The magnificent energy and hopeful vigor of this young city would lend enthusiasm to the gathering, and would reinforce the party for its critical campaign. The new exposition building at Minneapolis would be the most auspicious spot in the country for convention of the republicans of 1888."

THE NEW TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

A short time ago a movement among republicans to promote the cause of temperance in some other way than by the third political party method. The persons engaged in this movement call themselves anti-saloon republicans. By this, the members desire to be known as being in opposition to the saloon element, and commit themselves against all overtures for open or secret alliance with the liquor element. This spirit quickly drifted to the granite hills of Vermont, and the other day the republican state convention adopted the following resolution, which is a part of the platform:

Resolved. That we deplore the multifarious evils of intemperance, we reaffirm the position of the republican party in this state upon that question, and declare that, in our opinion, the prohibition of the liquor traffic as expressed in our state statutes do and should repair the settled policy of the state; that, as the liquor saloon is as debasing in politics as it is useful in social life, the republican party should everywhere reject all overtures for open and secret alliance with it, and that the state committee this day appoints be instructed to select delegates to represent this state in the coming National anti-saloon conference which has been called to meet in Chicago.

The movement which started in New Jersey and quickly found its way to Vermont, has reached Massachusetts, and to day there is held at Tremont Temple, in Boston, a meeting of prominent republicans who are opposed to saloons. The call for this meeting which will be somewhat informal, states that "it is the purpose of this conference to discuss the attitude which the republican party should be asked to maintain with reference to the temperance question, and to consider the propriety of sending delegates to the national conference of anti-saloon republicans called to meet in Chicago." We judge from the tone of the call and the character of the men who have signed it, that the anti-saloon republicans of the east are in earnest in this master. They see the impracticability of the third party, and have taken this course to prevent a certain class of temerity people from working indirectly in the hands of the democracy.

It is encouraging to note that the "Law and Order" prohibition paper published in Boston, endorses this republican anti-saloon movement, and urges the prohibitionists of Massachusetts and Vermont to endorse it, and withdraw their support from the third party. The point is, will the prohibitionists of these states attest their earnestness for the temperance cause and follow the wise and timely advice of the "Law and Order?"

MR. CHAPMAN OF GOVERNOR RUSK?

The other day the Milwaukee correspondent of the Inter Ocean came in interview with Mr. T. A. Chapman, of Milwaukee, on the gubernatorial question, and this is what he writes: There has been considerable talk of the possibility of the democrats and the labor element uniting with T. A. Chapman, the well-known merchant here, whose name has been so prominently mentioned in connection with the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Chapman is known as a liberal republican in politics, and it is thought that he would make a strong candidate for either party. The Inter Ocean correspondent called upon Mr. Chapman to-day to ask him concerning this talk. "I have heard nothing of the kind," he replied rather curtly, "and I do not wish to. As I understand it, the labor party, as they call themselves, have taken a stand against Rusk because of his treatment of the labor troubles; they are crying 'anything to beat Rusk,' and the democrats hope to utilize this strong antagonism to Rusk. Now, I am a friend of the laboring classes, & I believe my record as an employer shows, but I would not allow myself to be used by the labor element or any other class to push Gov. Rusk for doing his duty. Gov. Rusk is a small farmer, 55 years of age, and had no slaves. His wife is four years his senior and is supposed to have been insane at times for several years past.

MOST ATROCIOUS EITHER WAY.

Horrible Charge Brought Against a Man by His Daughters.

LITCHFIELD, Ill., July 12.—Deputy Sheriff Griswold arrested David S. Davis Saturday morning. Davis, a well-to-do farmer living north of this place, recently divorced proceedings were begun. At 11 o'clock Saturday night he was arrested. In the evening Mrs. Clatterton, revolver in hand, entered a room where her husband was sitting and deliberately shot him in the back. The wounded man rose to his feet with an effort, but the next instant fell dead in a heap on the floor. As he lay writhing in agony, his wife, who had recently divorced him, revolver again, and shot him a second time, killing him instantly. A crowd soon collected at the house and the woman was taken into custody. Saturday morning Mrs. Clatterton was crying for her husband and children. She appears completely crazed.

RUSHVILLE, Ill., July 12.—Sunday afternoon a woman by the name of Mrs. Livingston, living in this place, was found dead. Her body was taken to the office of Dr. J. C. Johnson, who performed the funeral services.

The total vote polled up to Saturday night was: Unionist, 1,294; Gladstonian, 1,183; 1st, 1,172.

Local Solidarity has made overtures to Lord Shaftesbury for the formation of a coalition ministry, whose programme shall include a local government bill for Ireland, Scotland, and England; a laborers' allotment bill; empowering rural laborers to acquire small holdings; reform and extension of the artisans' dwellings act; including dwellings of farm laborers; a measure for the cheaper transfer of lands; and the appointment of a select committee to inquire into the administration of the government of India, with the view of giving the natives increased local control.

The Babe Ruth Game Stand.

The winning of three consecutive games by the Chicago club from the Detroit club last week brought the Chicago team to within two games of the standing of the leaders so far as games won is concerned. Last night, however, it was announced that Mr. Harris had gotten up, presumably in the interests of his health, a new record of 18, aged respectively 13 and 18. Davis was taken before justice of the peace. His older daughter testified that Davis forced her to submit to him just four years ago, when she was but 14 years old. The younger daughter swore that her father accomplished his lustful desire upon her last winter. Both girls state that Davis repeatedly tried to induce them to yield to his prodding, and that they would not do so until he threatened to expose their secret. Their mother, being absent from the house at the time, was struck by some one from behind in the left temple with an iron barrow tooth. Mr. Davis was a small farmer, 55 years of age, and had no slaves. His wife is four years his senior and is supposed to have been insane at times for several years past.

No Adjournment of Congress Probable Before August—An Important Proposition.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 12.—So little progress was made by congress last week that the major part of the forecast of that is applicable for this week. The house finished the general deficiency appropriation bill and referred to the committee of private bills the president's vetoed bill. The Senate passed the bill, doing away with them, for the present at least, but the senate is yet at work on the river and harbor bill, and will likely be occupied with it two or three days longer. The work in both branches of congress was delayed so greatly that the prospects for adjournment are not so bright for an early day as were expected a week ago. Spangler, Calfee and Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, on the other hand, agree now that adjournment is out of the question before Monday, the 25th instant, while many members and senators believe adjournment will be near the 1st proximo.

TUESDAY, July 13.—The joint resolution of Morris, providing that all the surplus money in the treasury, and which may accumulate from time to time, be applied to the liquidation of the interest-bearing debt of the United States will be taken up. As this contemplates the redemption of an enormous amount of bonds and the circulation of an equal sum of standard silver dollars, and is therefore an important financial proposition, it may consume several day's time.

Riddleberger—I have not quoted; wait a moment.

Legals did not insist upon his point of order, and Riddleberger, reciting Ingalls' words and manner, said: "The words of those senators who stood up in order to speak were words which kept them out of the record next morning. I ask senators when this time will come that we can vote upon this resolution, and when the country can know that we are willing to determine whether we ought to have secret sessions in this body. Words were uttered here recently which no man would have uttered in a secret session. I do not mean to designate anybody, but no senator here has his name known or spoken, and I call upon him to show that he has letters to show that a certain man, nominated for an important office, had offered toicker and trade to secure his confirmation, and yet refuse to produce the letters. Allegations have been made in the senate, seemingly backed up by the word of a senator, that I had letters showing that a gentleman nominated for an office had offered to 'clicker' would offer that which 'unbecomes a man' and is an untruth. I want my resolution voted on because open sessions will give a man like me the opportunity to be heard, as well as those on this floor who may be the possible owners of bell telephone stock."

The chair remanded Riddleberger, who had repeatedly violated the rules of order. Riddleberger then withdrew his appeal.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate Still Debating Minnesota Canal—Business Done in the House.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 12.—The president's message voting the Dayton public building bill was laid before the senate Saturday, also a communication from the secretary of war asking for legislation to enable the government to accept a site for a military post at Chicago. Blane made a report on twenty-three pension veterans, recommending the passage of a bill to be sent to the president. A majority report, signed by Calfee, Collier, Wilson of Maryland and Winters, was adopted, saying any knowledge of Blane's report, was also presented; both reports were recommitted. The house bill authorizing the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway to bridge the Mississippi at Dubuque was passed. Hoyt's resolution calling for information as to the status of the fisheries bill was referred to Riddleberger, who was given leave to speak. A passionate protest on the part of its author. The river and harbor bill then came up and the debate on the Hennepin canal scheme consumed the time until a secret session was had, after which the senate adjourned.

The Randall tariff bill was reported adversely to the house, also the bill concerning the tobacco tax. The general deficiency bill was passed, and the amendment referring to certain railway taxes illegally collected rejected. The bill was then referred to the committee on appropriations with instructions to strike out the clause giving one month's extra pay to hours and some employees. This was done by the bill reporter, and the bill was then passed. Morris offered a resolution setting apart July 23 for the consideration of a joint resolution requiring the payment of $100,000,000 of the surplus in the treasury on the public debt. A point of order against this resolution was made by Hoyt of New York, but overruled and the resolution adopted, 184 to 34. A private pension bill was then passed and the house then adjourned.

Solicitor Goode's Rejection. WASHINGTON CITY, July 12.—When Beutelle heard of the driving away of American fishermen from St. Andrews, N. B., he at once reported the facts to the state department, who at once required that the matter receive immediate attention. He is more than ever convinced that the most effective way to deal with the Canadians in regard to the fisheries is to largely increase the duties on fish, and thus make the provincial pays roundly for the privilege of selling in our market.

Mr. Bayard has written to Representative Beutelle stating that it was in hopes that intercession of the American fishing fleet would be given. A majority report, signed by Calfee, Collier, Wilson of Maryland and Winters, was adopted, saying any knowledge of Blane's report, was also presented; both reports were recommitted. The petition for the Evansville cut off is growing in proportions and will be presented to the common council as soon as it can be put in shape for that body to act upon it. The enterprise will be well under way before the first of August from present indications.

Mr. H. S. Woodruff, proprietor of the Champion Dairy, has just been overhauling the rolling stock of the dairy farm. This morning three newly painted milk wagons were turned out of the paint shop at the Empire Cross Spring company, and it will be ten days or more before the wagon will be ready for duty. It will be a day and a handy piece of furniture for the marshals.

At Court Street church last evening the pastor delivered a very interesting lecture on "Our Common School System." He took the broad and comprehensive ground that education is vital to the perpetuity of our government, and advanced compulsory education as essential to the best interests of every state in the union. The right of the ballot demanded intelligence and was a dangerous weapon in the hands of the ignorant. He defined clearly the antagonism of infidelity and the Romish church to our school system, showing that the former objected to having anything religious taught, while Catholicism compelled all at compared with what a non-Catholic can do. He must have been in Janesville on some moonlight night.

—Some of the piling for the new bridge at North Fourth street has arrived, and work will be commenced on the bridge in a few days. The committee wish all subscribers to the fund to call on the treasurer, Mr. John J. R. Pease, and pay their subscriptions, that work will not stop for want of money.

—The union service in the Congregational church last night was well attended. Dr. Miner, of Madison, treated the audience to an excellent discourse. A letter has been received from the pastor of the Congregational church, the Rev. A. J. Van Wagner, stating that he will be home either Wednesday or Thursday.

—The First M. E. church and Sunday school will hold a picnic at Pope's Springs next Wednesday, the 14th. The boat will leave at 9 and 11 o'clock a. m., and 2 and 4 o'clock p. m. Sunday school children under ten years of age will go free; those between 10 and 15 one-half fare; all others 25 cents for round trip. A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends to attend.

—The Rev. H. Baldwin Dean, of Waukesha, occupied the pulpit of Christ church yesterday morning, and in the evening that of Trinity church. He with a party of three other gentlemen from Waukesha and Fair Water are taking a summer trip through the country on bicycles and tricycles, and have been in this city for several days. They pronounce a wheeling tour one of the pleasantest ways possible to spend a vacation, and are quite enthusiastic in the matter.

—A sort of pontoon bridge is being constructed at the foot of North Second street, extending into the river to the gravel bank or bed in mid-stream. This is for the purpose of removing the grave to allow a more free flow of water in the river, it having been quite an obstruction. An attempt was made two or three years ago to remove this bar by similar means, but when the "pontoon" was completed and the workmen ready to go at shoreing, high water came and washed the bridge away. We hope they will be more successful this time.

—The Madison Journal—Letters of inquiry regarding the annual encampment of the Monona Lake assembly are coming from the south and far east. Superintendent Locke is kept busy entering orders for tents, etc., about 100

—A sort of pontoon bridge is being constructed at the foot of North Second street, extending into the river to the gravel bank or bed in mid-stream. This is for the purpose of removing the grave to allow a more free flow of water in the river, it having been quite an obstruction. An attempt was made two or three years ago to remove this bar by similar means, but when the "pontoon" was completed and the workmen ready to go at shoreing, high water came and washed the bridge away. We hope they will be more successful this time.

—The Madison Journal—Letters of inquiry regarding the annual encampment of the Monona Lake assembly are coming from the south and far east.

—This morning Messrs. H. E. Pier, son, George Irish and Albert Bunting started on a voyage up Rock river, intending to reach Lake Michigan by water. They each have a "float." They will proceed up the river to the Horicon marsh, and from thence they will endeavor to discover some water course leading into Lake Winnebago. They imagine they will have an easy time, passing through the lake, into Fox river, Green Bay, then through the Superior Bay canal to Lake Michigan. They take along camp equipment, and are prepared for rough weather. It is not known in what way or when they will return home, but their intimate friends say that they will undoubtedly take Foot & Walker's line home within a week.
